

Person of the Year Award

Scott Martin
Senior Director of Industry Relations and Compliance
Hillphoenix

Scott Martin is the Senior Director of Industry Relations and Compliance at Hillphoenix, the leading supplier of transcritical CO₂ systems in North America, with over 1,500 installed in supermarket and industrial locations.

Since joining Hillphoenix in 1995, he has been one of the primary voices supporting the adoption of the company's sustainable refrigerants programs, starting with CO₂ as a secondary fluid and cascade systems and then more recently CO₂ transcritical systems.

He has been a frequent speaker at many industry events and a participant in industry committees.

He has spoken and written about industry challenges and adoption of sustainable refrigeration solutions such as CO₂ over his career.

Martin, on behalf of Hillphoenix, has received the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) GreenChill program, for 12 consecutive years. Martin continues to work on behalf of the industry and its affiliates to find collaborative solutions to tomorrow's challenges.
